Volunteer for TimeShop!

Taste life in the past at TimeShop, an innovative program in world history for children ages 8-12, held at Georgia Southern University, co-sponsored by the History Department and the Museum. TimeShop is seeking committed and enthusiastic student volunteers to begin preparing this fall semester for its weekend of time travel in February 2005.

200 kids will "visit" England on September 30, 1940. As a volunteer, you can choose from many opportunities, including:

- Help create and portray a character from 1940 England (Some acting experience or aptitude helpful. References and resume required. No British accent necessary!)
- Prepare for a role as a TimeShop Guide
- Help research and/or plan TimeShop.

Visit <http://class.georgiasouthern.edu/timeshop> for more info, or contact Dr. Annette Laing at ASLaing@georgiasouthern.edu.

Internet Problems?

There have been numerous connection issues since the students moved in this semester. Most of these problems are due to unauthorized equipment and networks set up by other students and students with incorrect configurations. The correct settings are listed at <http://services.georgiasouthern.edu/its/stunetwork.php>.

Do not connect wireless access points, routers, switches or hubs to the campus network. This is a violation of the Computer Use Policy - <http://services.georgiasouthern.edu/its/policy.php>. IT Services has tracked some of these devices down and has turned the students in to Judicial Affairs.

If you still have trouble or are unsure about what to do, technicians are available to help you get connected to GSNet. Call 681-5429 and press "2" or email helpdesk@georgiasouthern.edu for help.

Spotlight On . . . Charisse Perkins

Charisse Perkins is the president of the Student Government Association (SGA). She is a Senior Marketing major from Columbus, Georgia. She ultimately would like to attend law school after she graduates.

Charisse has been actively involved in student organizations at Georgia Southern including: MAP, EDGE, Eagle Entertainment, the Student Alumni Council, the American Marketing Association, Gamma Beta Phi, and Intramurals. In her spare time, she enjoys spending time with her friends.

As SGA President, Charisse sits on various committees throughout campus and she is the liaison between administration and students. Often times, she is the only student voice on these committees. SGA's goals for this year include getting Southern students registered to vote. SGA has planned six voter registration drives for this upcoming year. SGA is also involved with lending a hand to the community by fundraising for the United Way and Relay for Life.

The thing Charisse most enjoys about Georgia Southern is the student body. She enjoys the mindset and the culture of students. Her advice to students is to get involved on campus. She says there is an organization out there for everyone, so instead of sitting around doing nothing, students should get involved! She also urges students to continue meeting with their academic advisors to get advised properly to avoid any registration problems.

Hurricane Helper

Make A Difference! Help victims of Hurricane Charley

by donating canned goods, non-perishable items, toiletries, blankets, bottled water, cleaning supplies, and flashlights.

Do your part and help Georgia Southern make an impact and a difference! Drop off any donations in designated "Donation Cans." You can find these donation cans in any on-campus residence hall, University Housing Office (Watson Hall) or the Russell Union.
