PEST CONTROL

The initial step to the elimination of insects in your residence hall is sanitation. All insects need food, moisture and harborage in order to survive. The pest control operator's success at an individual's residence will be determined by the resident's housekeeping.

The two most troublesome insects found in residence halls and apartments are ants and roaches. Both of which can be completely eliminated, but not with pesticides alone. The outcome solely resides on the sanitation of the individual residence; below are some steps each of our students can practice in order to be insect free:

1. Wash dirty dishes immediately after eating. Do not leave dirty dishes on table, counter or place in the sink.

After washing dishes, drain sink, do not leave water standing.

2. Vacuum on a regular basis. (Not just before your family visits.)

3. Do not leave chips, cookies, cereal, etc. that have interior bags left open. Either seal with an appropriate sized zip lock bag, or place in the refrigerator.

4. After consuming beverages, rinse containers and dispose of in an appropriate manner.

5. When cleaning room/apartment, do not place trash bag outside the door until leaving the premises. Place in dumpster immediately.

By following these five simple procedures you will be able to assist in your pest control success.

Become a Peer Leader Today!

Peer Leaders serve as a mentor for a GSU 1210 class in the fall. They assist the faculty/staff member with the class by initiating ice breakers, team builders, responding to e-mail and facilitating class discussions.

Being a peer leader provides practical skills and experiences to hone leadership skills and learn more about Georgia Southern. It also allows student leaders to get to know a faculty member well, which can come in handy when students need a strong letter of reference for graduate school, jobs, or internships.

For more information and an application, please go to http://academics.georgiasouthern.edu/fye/peer_leader.htm

Do you know how to use the Library? If not, make sure to Sign-Up for a Library Workshop!

Attend a popular workshop offered by Henderson Library Information Services Department. Become savvy with a computer at the library or attend workshops to improve research skills. Learn how to use new databases, such as Reference USA and Westlaw Campus Research, when you sign up for the GALILEO workshop. Workshops are open to all students, staff and faculty.
