Ceremonial Mace

The Ceremonial Mace is carried by a faculty member who leads the faculty and administration in academic processions. The macebearer is the faculty member holding the rank of professor who has the greatest length of service to Georgia Southern University.

Approximately two and one-half feet in length and constructed of cast Everdur Bronze and carved American walnut, the mace was designed and crafted in 1988 by Thomas P. Steadman, Associate Professor of Art. Its angular forms and low-gloss finishes are suggestive of the medieval battle-mace from which the more scepter-like academic mace evolved.

The design of the mace blends forms borrowed from flora indigenous to South Georgia. The magnolia leaves and stems encircling the head of the mace in a double helix symbolize Georgia Southern's link with the geographic region it serves. A small ballast rock, found on the Georgia coast and traced to probable British origin, is embedded in the finial base of the shaft representing the foundation of the institution.

Alma Mater

*From humble farm beginnings
Sprung up from sandy earth
Among the tow'ring pine trees
Is a treasure of great worth.*

*Her price cannot be measured
In silver or in gold,
But in the love and loyalty
That many hearts enfold.*

CHORUS

*Georgia Southern University
On eagles' wings, you soar
We pledge to you our loyalty
And love forever more.*

*Through triumphs and through trials
Our Alma Mater stood
As solid as the oak trees
For justice and for good.*

*As through these gates we travel
And though our ways must part,
Our Georgia Southern mem'ries
We'll keep within our hearts.*
